"Where friends are made"

John and Carol Ryan have always been hurried business people. For years, fine wine was their solace and relaxation. Their plan there was to always open a wine shop when they retired, but they were pulled into action when the chance arose to buy a beautiful historic building at 222 Hickory Street. With the perfect location, John and carol knew it was time to live their dream. The Ryans make a point of tasting every bottle of wine offered at Vigne , which leads to the most extensive and eclectic wine list in the Metroplex. The food at Vigne reflects some of John and Carol's favorite recipes from home, and they try to let the elegance of the great ingredient shine through. Through they appreciate the finer things in life,Vigne aims to be a casual place. They're inspired by the passion that everyday people feel for great food and drink
